Endowment. "We are proud and thankful to be partnering with Josh Duhamel and Omaze on this exciting campaign to raise funds to directly help vets, while also fulfilling the dreams of a lucky winner."

The Call of Duty™ Endowment has successfully placed more than 50,000 veterans into high-quality, high-retention employment since 2009. They reached this goal ahead of schedule, and recently announced they will double down their efforts and have committed to placing a total of 100,000 veterans by 2024.

About the Call of Duty™ Endowment

The Call of Duty™ Endowment is a non-profit organization founded by Bobby Kotick, CEO of Activision Blizzard. The Endowment seeks to help veterans find high-quality careers by supporting groups that prepare them for the job market and by raising awareness of the value vets bring to the workplace. Participants looking to win this experience can increase their chance of being the ultimate winner based on their level of donation. The limited edition Indian Scout 741B motorcycle up for grabs is one of only six made in the entire world, making it a collector's dream come true.

The proceeds of this campaign will directly benefit the Call of Duty™ Endowment, an award-winning non-profit that helps veterans find high-quality careers after service by funding best-in-class organizations throughout the U.S. and U.K. that focus on combatting veteran unemployment. For every $516 raised, the Endowment can place a veteran into a high-quality job.

"By donating to this campaign, you can help place a veteran into meaningful employment, which helps them successfully transition from military to civilian life," said Dan Goldenberg, Executive Director of the Call of Duty™
